INTRODUCTION

The IELTS is a standardized tests of English language proficiency for non-native English language speakers wishing to enroll in Universities using English as the main/dominant of communication. Some governmental institutions abroad, licensing bodies, businesses and scholarship programs may require these tests.

INTERNATIONAL ENGLISH LANGUAGE TESTING SYSTEM (IELTS)

TWO TYPES OF THE IELTS:

1. The Academic Version

The Academic Version is intended for those who want to enroll in universities and other institutions of higher education and for professionals such as medical doctors and nurses who want to study or practice in an English speaking country.

2. The General Training Version

The General Training Version intended for those planning to undertake non-academic training or to gain work experience, or for immigration purposes.

NOTE :

All candidates must complete four Modules - Listening, Reading, Writing and Speaking — over 2 hrs. 55 mins to obtain a band score between 0 — 9. All candidates take the same Listening and Speaking Modules, while the Reading and Writing Modules differ depending on whether the candidate is taking the Academic or General Training Versions of the Test.

LISTENING

The module comprises four sections of increasing difficulty. It takes 40 minutes: 30 - for testing, plus 10 for transferring the answers to an answer sheet. Each section, which can be either a monologue or dialogue, begins with a short introduction telling the candidates about the situation and the speakers. Then they have some time to look through the questions. Each section is heard only once

READING

In the academic module the reading test comprises three sections, with 3 texts normally followed by 13 or 14 questions for a total of 40 questions overall. The General test also has 3 sections. However, the texts are shorter, so these can be up to 5 texts to read. The section last for 60 mins.

WRITING

In the Academic module, there are two tasks: in Task 1 candidates describe a diagram, graph, process or chart, and in Task 2 they respond to an argument. In the General Training module, there are also two tasks: in Task 1 candidates write a letter or explain a situation, and in Task 2 they write an essay. The entire section lasts for 60 mins.

SPEAKING

The speaking test contains three sections and is about 11- 15 mins long. The first section takes the form of an interview during which candidates may be asked about their hobbies, interests, reasons for taking IELTS exam as well as other general topics such as clothing, free time, computers and the Internet or family. In the second section candidates are given a topic card and then have one minute to prepare after which they must speak about the given topic. The third section involves a discussion between the examiner and the candidate, generally on questions relating to the theme which they have already spoken about in part 2. This last section is more abstract, and is usually considered the most difficult.
